go fuck yourself santa

...you're a lie... a joke... a fraud... an old potato... a blob of mustard... you're a ridiculous myth... and i can't for the life of me figure out why any parent dared to pretend for one second santa existed... what the fuck is up with that? can someone please explain me this?? why would anyone do that to a child?... preparation to willingly and blithely accept the rest of the bullshit and propaganda that will be shoveled into the kid's face for the rest of its life - religion, democracy, television, etc...(?) preparation to watch football with the zeal of religious tribalism (?) ... what the fuck is this santa thing about anyway?... i don't mean santa as Form, (that's fine).. but why would anyone deceive a child like this? i just cannot get my brain around that... no matter how hard i try... people who lie to children should go to hell. merry christmas... hope yours is filled with joy... and i love santa.... i'm just sayin.
