Question or Comment:

I have had two surgeries and breast implant removal. All surgeries were a disaster. I live with daily pain in my left breast and now am very depressed. I am sorry for what you have endured and just wanted to contact you. Every day I live with regret and only wish I would have seen sites like yours prior to making one of THE biggest mistakes of my life. I think about trying again with another surgery some days but I am too scared that it will only get worse. My confidence in surgeons has been so destroyed. If you have any words of advice please contact me. Thank you and God Bless.
